unit 5 CD2

Conversation — track 1, 3, 4

Felicity has asked Elias, one of her team, for a quick word.

Felicity: Thanks for staying back, Elias. I wanted to flag something from today's meeting.

Elias: Sure. Is everything okay?

Felicity: Mostly. But I've noticed you tend to jump in before others finish.

Elias: Oh. I didn't realize I was doing that.

Felicity: It comes from a good place, I know. But the juniors have gone a bit quiet.

Elias: That's fair. I appreciate you being upfront about it.

Felicity: It might be worth letting others finish first, then building on their ideas.

Elias: Makes sense. I guess I get excited and forget to listen.

Felicity: Totally get it. Your energy's a real asset, so don't lose that.

Elias: Thanks. Could you give me a nudge if I slip up?

Study Notes

It comes from a good place, I know.
Chị biết em có ý tốt mà.
"come from a good place" = xuất phát từ ý tốt. Câu làm mềm trước khi nói điều khó nghe.
Cách nói tương đương: I know you mean well.

Could you give me a nudge if I slip up?
Nếu em lại mắc lỗi thì chị nhắc khéo em nhé?
"give someone a nudge" = nhắc khéo (nghĩa đen: huých nhẹ); "slip up" = sơ suất.
Cách nói tương đương: Feel free to remind me if I do it again.

Speak Like a Native — track 2

1. I wanted to flag something from today's meeting.
change: "wanted to" (mất âm d)
strong: "flag", "today's meeting"

Giọng New Zealand thường đọc /æ/ gần như "e": "flag" nghe như "fleg". "wanted to" → "won-tị-to". Nói chậm, giọng nhẹ để lời góp ý không nặng nề.

2. That's fair. I appreciate you being upfront about it.
change: "appreciate_you" (t + y → "ch")
linking: "upfront_about_it"
strong: "fair", "upfront"

"appreciate you" → "ơ-pri-shi-ây-chu". Giọng Mỹ: "about it" → "ơ-bao-đit". Xuống giọng ở cuối để nghe chân thành, không phòng thủ.

3. Could you give me a nudge if I slip up?
change: "Could_you" (d + y → "j")
linking: "slip_up"
weak: "me", "a"
strong: "nudge", "slip up"

"Could you" → "cu-ju"; "give me" nói nhanh gần như "gim-mi". Lên giọng nhẹ ở cuối: lời nhờ vả lịch sự.

- Giọng New Zealand thường đọc /æ/ gần "e" (flag, back), /ɪ/ gần "ơ" (finish).
- Âm d, t gặp "you" biến thành "j", "ch": could you → "cu-ju", appreciate you → "…ây-chu".
- Khi góp ý, nói chậm và giọng đều; khi nhận góp ý, xuống giọng ở cuối câu để nghe thành thật.

Grammar Focus

Góp ý khéo: I wanted to flag… / I've noticed… / It might be worth + V-ing

Mở lời nhẹ nhàng, nói về hành động cụ thể (không chê con người), rồi gợi ý thay vì ra lệnh.

I wanted to flag a small issue with the slides.
I've noticed you've been quiet in meetings lately.
It might be worth double-checking the figures.

Đón nhận góp ý: I appreciate you + V-ing / That's fair

Cảm ơn và thừa nhận một cách chuyên nghiệp, không phòng thủ. Có thể nói appreciate + you + V-ing hoặc appreciate + danh từ (your honesty).

I appreciate you telling me.
That's fair. I'll work on it.
Point taken. It won't happen again.

Role Play — track 6

A: Thanks for staying back, Elias. I wanted to flag something from today's meeting.

B: Sure. Is everything okay?

A: Mostly. But I've noticed you tend to jump in before others finish.

B: Oh. I didn't realize _____.

A: It comes from a good place, I know. But the juniors have gone a bit quiet.

B: That's fair. I appreciate you _____.

A: It might be worth letting others finish first, then building on their ideas.

B: Makes sense. I guess I get excited and forget to listen.

A: Totally get it. Your energy's a real asset, so don't lose that.

B: Thanks. Could you give me a nudge if _____?

Substitution Drill — track 7

1. I didn't realize I was doing that.
   a. it came across that way
   b. it was a problem
   c. anyone had noticed

2. I appreciate you being upfront about it.
   a. pointing it out
   b. raising it with me
   c. being so honest

3. Could you give me a nudge if I slip up?
   a. I start doing it again
   b. I get carried away
   c. I cut someone off