Conversation track 22, 24, 25

Tung and Irene are throwing a party at their apartment on Saturday.

Tung: OK, two days till the party. What still needs doing?

Irene: Well, the air conditioner's broken. I'm having it fixed tomorrow morning.

Tung: Good. And the sofa? That wine stain is still there.

Irene: Let's get it cleaned professionally. It's cheaper than you'd think.

Tung: Sounds good. Hey, did you get your hair cut? It looks great.

Irene: Thanks! I had it done on Monday. You only noticed now?

Tung: My bad. So, are we cooking or ordering in?

Irene: Neither. I'm having the food catered. We're not cooking for thirty people!

Study Notes

What still needs doing?
Còn việc gì phải làm nữa?
"need + V-ing" mang nghĩa bị động, giống "need to be done": The car needs washing.
Cách nói tương đương: What else do we need to do?

My bad.
Lỗi của mình.
Cách nhận lỗi rất thân mật của người Mỹ, dùng cho lỗi nhỏ, không nghiêm trọng.
Cách nói tương đương: Sorry, my mistake.

Speak Like a Native track 23

1. I'm having it fixed tomorrow morning.
linking: "having_it"
change: "fixed tomorrow" (hai âm t gộp làm một)
strong: "fixed", "morning"
"having it" nối thành "he-vin-git". Đuôi -ed của "fixed" đọc /t/, gặp /t/ của "tomorrow" nên chỉ đọc một lần: "fiks-tơ-ma-râu".

2. It's cheaper than you'd think.
weak: "than", "you'd"
strong: "cheaper", "think"
"you'd" ở đây là "you would"; âm /d/ trước "think" gần như không nghe thấy: "yu-think". "than" đọc nhẹ /đən/ "đơn".

3. Hey, did you get your hair cut?
change: "did you", "get your" (d, t + y → "j", "ch")
strong: "hair cut"
Hai lần biến âm: "did you" → "đi-jo", "get your" → "ghe-chơ". Phần câu hỏi nghe như "đi-jơ-ghe-chơ-heơr-cớt", lên giọng ở cuối.

• Nhấn vào V3 (việc được làm) hơn là have / get: I'm having it FIXED.
• Âm /d/, /t/ gặp /j/ (you, your) biến thành "j", "ch": did you → "đi-jơ", get your → "ghe-chơ".
• Hai âm giống nhau ở ranh giới từ chỉ đọc một lần: fixed tomorrow → "fiks-tơ-ma-râu".
• "you'd" + động từ nguyên mẫu = you would: than you'd think → "đơn-yu-think".

Grammar Focus

have something done: nhờ hoặc thuê người khác làm have + vật + V3: việc do người khác (thợ, dịch vụ) làm cho mình.
Chia thì ở "have": I'm having / I had / I'll have…

We had the kitchen painted last month.
I'm having my teeth cleaned on Friday.
She has her nails done every week.

get something done: thân mật hơn get + vật + V3: nghĩa giống "have", phổ biến hơn trong văn nói. Cũng dùng cho chuyện không may xảy ra với mình (bị mất, bị hỏng…).

You should get that tooth checked.
I need to get my bike fixed.
She got her bag stolen on the bus.
